There's nothing quite as magical in the summer as a waterfront home, be it by a lake, river, creek, or ocean. For boating aficionados, whether you're an avid sailor, waterskier, or simply love a day in the sunshine, plenty of homes are up for grabs around the U.S. (and the world) that pair luxury architecture and interiors with pristine stretches of sandy beach, private docks for various types of watercraft, and boathouses to keep the waterfront fun going well after you dock the boat.

Robb Report has rounded up the most spectacular estates with private boat slips, from an elegant century-old home in Connecticut with modern interiors and direct access to Indian Harbor and the Long Island Sound, to brand-new waterfront slips at the Four Seasons Residences Lake Austin, which is accessed via an air-conditioned hillside funicular. Maritime adventures, exploratory voyages, boundless on-water escapes, and ultra-luxe coastal living await at these magnificent properties.
