Inside Olara's Sales Gallery

Developer Savanna unveiled the sales gallery for West Palm Beach's newest waterfront development, Olara. The 7,000-square-foot gallery functions as a tangible example of the level of luxury and hospitality Olara will bring to the Palm Beaches. The opening was celebrated with an exclusive party where guests toured a model residence showcasing the same finishes to be found in the completed residences, designed by Gabellini Sheppard. Other features of the gallery include a 9-foot scale model of the tower, and a virtual immersion room. Amenities will include 13,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor fitness spaces, olympic sized lap pool, private dock, and a 30,000 square foot restaurant space. Residence prices start at $2 million, with sales handled exclusively by Douglas Elliman. Those interested in visiting the sales gallery can find it at 300 Butler Street.
