Olara Secures Chef José Andrés' First Palm Beach Restaurant Concept

March 1, 2024

West Palm Beach, Florida, is about to witness the fusion of culinary excellence and luxurious living as renowned Chef José Andrés brings his innovative culinary concept to Olara, the most anticipated luxury residential condominium on the waterfront. This exciting development promises not only exquisite dining experiences but also a lifestyle defined by sophistication and wellness.

The announcement of Chef José Andrés' inaugural restaurant in the Palm Beaches has stirred up excitement among food enthusiasts and residents alike. Spanning 8,500 square feet on the ground floor of Olara, this waterfront dining destination will offer both indoor and outdoor seating, inviting guests to savor their meals amidst breathtaking views. Whether indulging in al fresco dining or enjoying the ambiance indoors, patrons can expect a culinary journey crafted by one of the world's most celebrated chefs.

Moreover, residents of Olara will enjoy exclusive access to culinary services, with provisions available throughout the tower's amenity spaces and the option for private, in-residence dining. This bespoke dining experience elevates the standard of luxury living, ensuring that every meal is a celebration of taste and refinement.

Olara marks a significant milestone in the transformation of West Palm Beach's waterfront into a premier destination for discerning individuals seeking an unparalleled lifestyle. With construction officially underway, this 26-story tower designed by Arquitectonica stands as a testament to architectural brilliance and waterfront elegance.

Boasting 275 private condominium residences, Olara offers panoramic views of the Atlantic Ocean, Palm Beach Island, and the Intracoastal Waterway, captivating residents with its idyllic setting. The tower's amenities, spanning 80,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor spaces, redefine luxury living. From a state-of-the-art fitness center curated by The Wright Fit to rejuvenating spa experiences and serene swimming pools, Olara prioritizes holistic wellness and relaxation.

Beyond culinary excellence and wellness offerings, Olara presents an array of amenities designed to enhance every aspect of residents' lives. Co-working spaces, private dock experiences, and a waterfront veranda foster community engagement and leisure, while partnerships with esteemed organizations like Sollis Health ensure access to premier healthcare services.

The project's sponsors, including Savanna and the Mactaggart Family Partnership, bring decades of expertise in real estate development and investment, underscoring Olara's commitment to excellence and sustainability. With prices starting at $2 million for two- to four-bedroom plus den homes, Olara sets a new standard for luxury living in West Palm Beach.

As Olara takes shape on West Palm Beach's waterfront, it promises to redefine the city's skyline while offering residents an unmatched lifestyle experience. From world-class dining to unparalleled amenities and panoramic views, Olara encapsulates the essence of luxury living in a vibrant coastal setting.
